

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 8.

We receive a great many communications from persons whose names are withheld, or unknown to us, and of course we can pay no attention to them.

The Havana Consulate.

The gentleman who was selected within the present year to discharge the duties of this important position, but who, on a recent tragic occasion, evinced his utter unfitness for the station, had the benefit of a trial—the people of the United States acting as jurors. In other words, the public sentiment of the United States has been ascertained in relation to his imbecile conduct, (not to use a harsher term,) when upwards of fifty of his gallant but misguided countrymen were summarily and cruelly ushered into the presence of their Maker. In the journals published in every part of our widely extended country, north, south, east and west, we read the verdict of an indignant people, upon the unfeeling, irresolute and pusillanimous course of Mr. Owen, upon the occasion referred to. Their verdict is not of mere disapproval, but of condemnation in the most scathing and unmeasured terms. This avalanche of public opinion cannot be resisted here in the federal metropolis, and we cannot forbear expressing our gratification that the Administration will soon move in this important matter. If our information be reliable—which we have no doubt—Mr. Fillmore has determined, after full consideration, to dismiss the delinquent consul. The entire people of the United States, and especially the bereaved and afflicted relatives and friends of the butchered Americans—the martyrs of the Castle of Atares—will thank and honor him for his decision.

The name we have heard most prominently mentioned in political circles in connection with this place, is that of Col. James B. Walton, of New Orleans. This would be a most felicitous selection. Col. W. is a native of the "Crescent City," and has "grown with its growth, and strengthened with its strength." He is a gentleman of firmness, of fine talents, handsome attainments, and winning address. In the late war with Mexico he commanded the first regiment of Louisiana volunteers, and we have heard veteran officers in the regular army declare that this regiment equaled in discipline, soldierly appearance, precision in drill, and effective service, any corps of the regular army. The lamented and discriminating Taylor often spoke in terms of high commendation of Col. Walton's command. During the last Presidential canvass he was a member of the Whig executive committee of Louisiana, and vice-president of that gallant and irresistible political corps, the "Fillmore Rangers." His political position will therefore no doubt prove acceptable. A noble-hearted American, lofty, generous and humane in his feelings, an accomplished linguist, speaking and writing the French and Spanish languages with fluency, he would, as the representative of the United States at the city of Havana, grace the station; and the intelligence of his appointment would impart gratification to the people of both the great political parties of the "sugar State."

DIRECT TRADE OF THE SOUTHERN STATES WITH EUROPE.—The Union of this morning says: "We are informed that Mr. C. G. Baylor, the consul of the United States at Amsterdam, leaves this city to-day for the South, and will attend the Macon Convention on the 27th instant. He is acting in conjunction with Mr. Van Lennep, now absent at Amsterdam, for the purpose of aiding the direct trade between the Southern States and the continent of Europe—a subject which has been twice noticed in our columns, and one that we are happy to know can suffer nothing from the elucidation which Mr. Baylor is prepared to give it. We recommend him and his cause to the favorable attention of the Southern planters."

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTIONS.—On Tuesday next there will be elected a Governor, Canal Commissioner, five Judges of the Supreme Court, State Senators, State Representatives, and a large number of county, city, and borough officers. The contest is warm, and every possible influence will be brought to bear. If the news of the election of Bigler as Governor of California shall be confirmed in time, the effect will be favorable to the success of his brother in Pennsylvania; for the prestige of success will be felt by his friends.

THE LIQUOR BILL.—We were somewhat in error yesterday. The bill passed by the Common Council does not embrace taverns and hotels; it is simply "an act amendatory of an act levying a tax on shops, porter cellars, and confectionaries, and increasing the tax on ordinaries, retailers," &c., approved October 26, 1819. Bars are kept in many houses not bona fide hotels and taverns, and these will be affected by this amendatory act.

SERMON TO THE YOUNG.—We understand that Dr. JENKIN will deliver a discourse on next Sabbath evening to the young ladies and gentlemen of the F Street Presbyterian church, and such others as may attend, to whom a cordial invitation is extended; and that the entire body of the church will be reserved for this interesting class of the community. The service will begin at half-past seven o'clock.

ELOQUENCE OF THE HON. A. H. H. STUART.—A writer, who saw and heard Mr. Stuart at Boston, says of him:

"When standing still, he has a stiff, martinet look. But all vanishes the moment he begins to speak. Then all is grace, and it becomes apparent that he is possessed of all the attributes of a finished orator. A rich and melodious voice, clear and elegant enunciation, graceful gesticulation, happy turns of thought, and an engaging warmth and sincerity, all combine to render him an unusually attractive speaker."

It is a pity his speeches read so poorly; he must be an orator indeed, to win praises by the utterance of them.

A GIANT.—The Ohio State Journal gives an account of a huge specimen of humanity, a giant which it avers is a giant, and one of the greatest living curiosities extant. He stands about eight feet high, weighing over four hundred pounds, with good proportions, and yet he is a beardless boy, and is still growing. He is a sight worth seeing, as it is only once in an age that such a person is permitted to grow.

The Syracuse Slave Case and Rescue.—Detached accounts of this affair have been generally published; but a narrative will no doubt prove at this moment acceptable.

The name of the slave is Jerry. He is a cooper, and was employed at his trade. He was claimed by Mr. John McReynolds, of Missouri. The arrest was made during the sittings of an Anti-Slavery Convention in the place, and the meeting of the County Fair.

What followed is told in the following telegraphic despatch, dated October 1st:

"Considerable excitement was occasioned by the arrest, and a large crowd assembled in and about the office of the Commissioner.

"While the examination was progressing, the negro made his escape into the street, and was closely followed by a crowd of persons, some of whom were desirous to assist in his escape, and others were equally anxious to assist in his recapture. A carriage was speedily procured by the negro's friends, but not in season to be made available for the object in view. He was recaptured by the officers before he got out of the limits of the city.

"He was then taken to the police office, followed by a large crowd, composed mostly of his colored friends.

"The examination was resumed with closed doors.

"Several white men were arrested for assisting the negro in his attempted flight.

"A large concourse of people surrounded the police office, where the negro and the white men were undergoing an examination.

"About dusk the crowd began to throw stones into the window of the police office pretty freely, which had the effect to adjourn the court till eight o'clock to-morrow morning."

What followed is thus stated by the New York Daily Times:

"Jerry was then removed to a room back of the main office, with the design of retaining him until next day. Such, however, was by no means the good pleasure of the outsiders. The tumult and violence continued to augment. The shower of missiles became so severe as to require the windows to be nailed up with planks. This was not accomplished without damage to the officers. To intimidate the assailants, several guns were discharged from the building over the heads of the crowd. One or two equally harmless shots were returned from the assembly; and there appears to have been no further employment of fire-arms. At 8 o'clock a systematic attack was made, with axes, sledges, crowsbars, and a battering-ram in the shape of a heavy plank, upon the door of the outer office. It speedily gave way before the tremendous assault, and in a few minutes the partition of the inner apartment fell beneath the strokes of the assailants, and after a courageous resistance on the part of the officers, Jerry was carried off in triumph. Of course the chains and manacles were stricken off the first thing, a difficult task in the dense darkness of the room, whose lights had been extinguished at the commencement of the onslaught. The rescuers, who, as far as could be seen, appeared to be chiefly negroes, bore the poor wretch down several streets to Brinthal's hotel, and placing him in a carriage, the late slave and captive was speedily beyond the reach of marshals, masters, and manacles."

The refusal or omission of the civil and military authorities to perform the duties incumbent upon them, forms another chapter in this affair. As has been already stated in a despatch in this paper, many men, white and colored, who participated in this rescue, are well known, and their punishment is essential to the fulfillment of the law. Its fulfillment or abandonment, either, will prove a serious matter.

THE STUMP.—The Hon. Andrew Stevenson is in training for the Presidency. He has taken the first step, in being announced for the delivery of an Agricultural Address at Harrisburg, on the 20th instant. This is following in the footsteps of General Cass and Senator Douglas. As for General Houston, he made his first movement in Temperance addresses; while the only thing that has been done in this way for Mr. Buchanan is the republication by his Pennsylvania friends of his Fourth of July oration against the war, which he delivered in 1816.

The speeches of these gentlemen should be published in book form, together with that speech made everywhere by Mr. Fillmore, and the Richmond and Boston speeches of Mr. Stuart, in the former of which Mr. S. declared he would not have a secessionist or an abolitionist among his "dependants," and in the latter excluded that Virginia stood the equal of Massachusetts in her regard for the Union. We are particular about these last, because without them history may go all wrong, especially when it is alleged that all recent elections have shown Massachusetts to be thoroughly an abolition State. Mr. Stuart is a very nice gentleman under all circumstances, and may, as he has promised, prove a good schoolmaster in the Old Dominion, having graduated in Massachusetts in a single day; but be this as it may, at speech-making he is a perfect dabster—he plasters the crowd before him thick with flattery, even though he should strike some unfortunate licks backward, as at Richmond, where the law firm of Fillmore & Hall stood directly in his rear! Let us have Mr. Fillmore's speech and Mr. Stuart's speeches! It would delight Messrs. Stevenson, Cass, Douglas, Houston, and Buchanan to find themselves enshrined in such company, though we think "Old Buck" might be permitted to append a recantation to that oration of his.

COMFORT, EASE AND GRACE IN WALKING, and a handsome boot or shoe, are desired by everybody, and everybody should therefore visit Mr. JANNEY, on Eighth street, between D and E, to whose advertisements we refer.

KAISER CATTLE.—The Charlottesville (Va.) Spirit of Jefferson says of the produce of the Khaisi, the original and crosses, now coming to maturity, that for size, beauty of appearance, and all other essentials as to beef or miltchers, no species of stock ever introduced into that region of country can approximate them; and states that Colonel Castleman has recently made the following sales to James P. Corbin, esq., of Caroline county:

1 Durham cow, with calf by the Khaisi bull . . . $200 00
1 Devonshire cow, with calf . . . 175 00
1/2 breed bull calf, 14 months old . . . 150 00

A THOUSAND ACRES OF TEXAS LAND.—We would refer to the advertisement of J. McN. Latham, esq., who has for sale some choice lands near Austin, Texas, on favorable terms.

Letters from Algiers state that a new chief, Mahomed Ben Abdallah, is endeavoring to rouse the populace in the south against the French. Troops have been sent to arrest him.

At a secret consistory in the Vatican, according to the Lithographed Correspondence, the Pope conceded to an English company the execution of a railway between Ancona and Bologna.

(Reported for the American Telegraph.)
The Tochanman Case.

Yesterday afternoon, after the Telegraph had gone to press, Major Tochanman appeared before Justice Morsell, and inquired whether he had read the publication made a part of the affidavit upon which he had issued a warrant for the alleged libel against Henri De Ahna. Being answered by Justice Morsell that he had not read it, Major T. requested the Justice to read it, and say whether there was anything in it which would authorize further proceedings. After the perusal of the publication referred to, the Justice answered that there was a probability that some parts of it might be considered as libellous. The Major then, protesting against the opinion of Justice Morsell, said he would not argue the matter; and asked the Justice what amount of bail he demanded. The answer was, "a thousand dollars;" to which Major T. rejoined, "You asked and took $500 bail from De Ahna, who circulated the most malicious and infamous libel against my wife, and you require me to give $1,000 bail for coming out in defense of the honor and reputation of my wife." The Justice at once reduced the amount of bail to $500. Dr. G. Bailey was then introduced by Major T. as his bail—whereupon Major T. was informed by Justice Morsell that De Ahna insisted upon holding him to a higher bail, and had gone after his counsel, Mr. Morgan, who would argue the case. Major T. then expressed a wish that the case should be taken before another magistrate, but was answered that the warrant being special, he was not at liberty to do so. "Well, then," said Major T., "I do not want to hear the argument of Mr. Morgan, nor do I wish to make any defence. If, after hearing Mr. Morgan, Justice M. should demand one thousand dollars bail, he (Major T.) would give it; and moved that the bail of $500 required of him be taken instantly, and that he be discharged, which was done accordingly.

The following is the publication upon which this proceeding was instituted:

A WARNING.—A certain Bavarian Captain (or a man passing himself for a Bavarian Captain) was introduced to Gov. Ujhazy, his family, and Mademoiselle Jagiello, now my wife, when they were passing through Hamburg to embark for this, the country of their asylum. That Bavarian is not a political exile. He came to this country on board the same steamer which brought Gov. Ujhazy and his party of Hungarian exiles, with a view of seeking better fortune than he enjoyed in his native land. He behaved like a gentleman and was very courteous in Hamburg, on board the steamer, and in New York, which gained him the respect and consideration of the whole party of the Hungarian exiles. He lived upon their charity, and Mademoiselle Jagiello loaned him money, which he never returned, and introduced him to many respectable families in New York. Her charitable kindness seems to have been misunderstood by that individual, or, at least, so it appears from his subsequent conduct, which brought to light the inward character of the individual. He came to Washington, a few weeks ago, for the purpose of finding some employment, and having learned that Mademoiselle Jagiello was engaged to me, he tried to revolt her against me; failing in this, he resorted to the villany of defaming the lady whom he once adored, and circulated assertions that I would never marry her, &c. Our subsequent marriage having put the lie in his throat, he left Washington for New York, and tempted the Hungarian exiles to furnish him testimony to impeach the character of my lady, offering two hundred dollars to any who would do so. No Hungarian could be bought by him; but he enlisted as accomplices of his baseness two foreigners: one a native of Vienna, who served in the Hungarian army, and claims to be a Hungarian major; the other is a Hungarian Jew, a pedlar, whom the Hungarian revolution elevated to the rank of lieutenant. These two individuals, a year ago, denounced Governor Ujhazy as a traitor, stating that he assumed the rank of Governor of Comorn in this country, &c. The public were disabused from this falsehood by the well-known letter which Kosuth wrote to General Cass, recommending Gov. Ujhazy as his particular friend, and most deserving of regard as a Hungarian patriot. Now, the same individuals, as I have been informed, gave the Bavarian Captain a certificate or affidavit, averring that my wife is a Jewess, and defaming her character by the most shameless false denunciations. I have been trying during the whole week to lay hand upon a copy of that libel, (which has been printed in the form of a circular, and is circulated by the Bavarian Captain,) for the purpose of indicting the libellers. As yet I have not succeeded; the friends of my wife and mine refusing to take from the libeller copies of that libel; and those who are strangers to us declining to furnish any to us—probably unwilling to become witnesses in the criminal prosecution which requires that the circulation of the libel be proved against the libeller. Under these circumstances of the case, this statement of facts is submitted to the public of this community, in order to disabuse them in the premises, and caution all respectable families against the unworthy individuals. It seems to me that this unfortunate circumstance requires of me to say who is my wife. Unwilling as I am to boast of my ancestry, the truth compels me to state, that she is a Polish lady by birth, of a most respectable family. The family of Jagiellons furnished kings to Poland during three centuries. The direct line or branch of that family existed in the Polish line-superseding Overland, and indispensable to every Polishman. I am prepared to supply the market with the article, wholesale and retail.

The Police of Washington.

A correspondent of the National Police Gazette, writing from Philadelphia, on the 23d ult., says:

"I returned to the city of Philadelphia on Sunday last, after an absence of nine weeks, during which time I visited Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, New Orleans, Savannah, Charleston, Washington city, and Baltimore, and paid some attention to the modus operandi of the police departments in these cities; and so far as regards talent, tact and ability, I give the police department under the superintendence of Capt. Goddard, of Washington city, the preference, particularly the criminal department. He has no faith in the old Philadelphia 'stool-pigeon' system, which was carried on from 1835 to 1847 to such an alarming extent," &c.

THIS ESSENCE has been proved by many thousands of the richest and most respectable families, as well as the poorest class of people, to be the best preparation of Coffee to be used by the family. It is offered to the public. Coffee made by this Essence is ever more wholesome, more delicate, fine-flavored, perfectly clear, and, in every instance, superior to the finest Java coffee.

In order to give full satisfaction and proof that the above article is perfectly healthy, and of the highest quality of the celebrated reputation it has gained and justly entitled to, we annex a few certificates and recommendations, particularly relating to health, from Dr. Booth and Dr. Chilton, practical Chemists and Analysts of the cities of Philadelphia and New York; also, from our Agents, all of whom are prominent Chemists and Druggists.

College Avenue, Tenth st., below Market st.

I have examined the Essence of Coffee manufactured by Hummel, Bohler & Co., and find that its constituents are not in the least degree injurious to health; it may be used freely and with perfect safety.
